NOTES ON THE EDUCATION OF THE DEAF.

A child born deaf, or becoming deaf in early infancy, has on entering school no knowledge of language. The only knowledge he has is purely sense knowledge; he has no knowledge of the significance of words—whether written, spelled on the fingers, or spoken. The hearing child learns to speak by imitating the sounds and words he hears from the people around him, and develops a knowledge of language from his earliest years. When he arrives at school age, he is in possession of an extensive knowledge of the English language, and has received the mental development which is brought about by the acquisition and use of language. The deaf child, because of his deafness, does not learn to speak, does not acquire any knowledge of language, and misses much of the mental development that should be going on from babyhood to the age at which school life begins. He remains in intellectual infancy until he is placed under instruction, and it is desirable that his education should be begun at as early an age as possible, while there is some definite relationship between his mental and physical growth. The greater the gap between these, the more difficult is the work of education, and the highest results are secured in the cases of children who enter school at an early age.

The acquisition of the English language is the basis of the education of the deaf. Instruction in the ordinary school subjects cannot be attempted until the pupil has sufficient language to enable the communication of the necessary ideas, and according to the degree of appreciation of language, which necessarily varies with the varying intelligence of children, is progress made in other subjects. The development of language in a congenitally deaf child has been likened to the acquisition of a foreign language by a hearing person. This, however, is not a suitable illustration. The hearing person has all his knowledge of his native language to assist him in the interpretation of the foreign; whereas the deaf child, cut off as he is by his deafness from all knowledge of the vernacular of his country, has no such assistance.

The aim of the teacher of the deaf in developing a knowledge of language in his pupils is to follow, as nearly as possible, the manner in which the little hearing child acquires his knowledge in the natural way. All our methods and systems are based on the laws governing the acquisition of language by normal children.

There are two main methods of imparting instruction to deaf children—the ORAL METHOD and the SILENT METHOD. In the former, Speech and Speech-Reading are employed, and in the latter the Manual Alphabet; Writing being common to both. The choice of method for individual children is decided from considerations of age, condition, and capability.

The ORAL METHOD seeks to give the child an intelligible speech, and the ability to read from the lips the language of everyday life. The sounds employed in our language are taught separately, in the order of increasing difficulty. As the progress of the child permits, these sounds are combined into words, of which he is taught the meaning, and the words into phrases and sentences, very simple in the early stages, but gradually and continuously expanding.

In the SILENT METHOD, the letters of the alphabet are taught on the fingers. Its aims are similar to those of the ORAL METHOD—the only difference being that Speech and Speech-Reading are not attempted, the Manual Alphabet taking their place as a means of communication and of imparting information.

Both methods abound with difficulties, which continue throughout the whole of the child's school career.

It will be gathered that the work of educating the deaf cannot be compared with that of normal children. No comparison can reasonably be made between the attainments of deaf and hearing children, but there is every prospect that if a deaf child of average intelligence be placed under efficient instruction at an early age, he will, at the end of his school career, be in possession of a satisfactory knowledge of his mother tongue, and have received such instruction in general scholastic subjects as will enable him to take his place in the outside world.

Education for the deaf is an imperative necessity, because—

1. It establishes a means of communication with other people by speech or finger-spelling, and writing; and removes the isolation of earlier years.
2. It develops in the deaf child a knowledge of his mother tongue, and provides him with materials for thought, and with the means of communicating it.
3. It enables him, to a greater or less degree, to avail himself of the opportunities afforded for self-culture by the literature of his country.
4. It develops in him principles of honour, candour and self-respect; and gives him a better and wider outlook on life.
5. It enables him to compete with his hearing fellows in industrial life, and to become a self-respecting and respected citizen; and in many cases prevents him becoming a useless burden on society.

The foregoing statement will give some idea of the magnitude of the work of the education of the deaf, and of the immense issues to the child and to society involved in the question. It will be readily understood that in order to accomplish the best that can be done, a deaf child should be placed under suitable instruction at the earliest possible age. Experience shows that the best and most effective means of educating deaf children is in such an Institution as New South Wales possesses in the Sydney Institution. Parents are naturally reluctant to send their children away from home at an early age; but having regard to the tremendous issues at stake, it is almost inconceivable that they should (as unfortunately some of them do) allow false conceptions of kindness and affection to stand in the way of their child's educational advancement.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind

FOR THE YEAR ENDED on 30th SEPTEMBER, 1917.

The Directors have the pleasure to report on the work of the Institution during the past twelve months, on the progress that has been made, the events that have occurred, and the present outlook in regard to the financial position of the Institution.

PUPILS.

The following table shows the number of pupils who have been under instruction during the year, the admissions and removals, and the number now on the roll:—

	Deaf & Dumb.		Blind.		Deaf and Blind	Totals.		Grand
	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Girl.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
On the Roll	46	44	20	10	1	66	55	121
Sept. 30, 1916	13	6	1	2		14	8	22
Admit'd since	59	50	21	12	1	80	63	143
Graduated, Discharged or Removed ..	8	11	3	2		11	13	24
On Roll now	51	39	18	10	1	69	50	119

This table shows a diminution of two in the number of pupils. The decrease during the past few years is owing to the fact that an unusually large number of pupils were born in the year 1899. These have mostly been withdrawn during the last three years, and the admissions have not been sufficiently numerous to make up the loss. It is anticipated, however, that the admissions during the next few years will greatly exceed the removals, and if the long-promised measure of compulsory school attendance for deaf and blind children is passed by Parliament our accommodation will probably be fully taxed. Unfortunately the realisation of the desire for compulsory education for deaf and blind children appears to be no nearer, in spite of the unanimity with which successive Ministers have admitted its necessity. For more than twenty years the Directors have been trying to obtain such an Act, but through changes in the Ministry and other causes their efforts have been in vain. Once again they respectfully invite the attention of the Government to this important matter and strongly urge that action be taken without delay for the sake of those afflicted ones for whom education is so absolutely necessary if they are to become useful and self-supporting members of the community. A Truancy Act was passed last year and the Directors were hopeful that deaf and blind children would be brought under its provisions, but they were exempted, and the question of school attendance for blind and deaf children is entirely at the option of their parents. Many of them do not realise their obligations in this respect and keep their afflicted children at home too long, thus depriving them of the advantages which the Institution confers and placing a heavy handicap on their future career.

The progress of the pupils on the whole has been very good. Our deaf-blind pupil, Alice Betteridge, continues to make excellent advancement in her studies. For this satisfactory result great praise is due to her teacher, Miss Reid, B.A. Alice is now over 16 years old, and the question of her future must before long be considered. Further information in regard to the work of the school will be found in the report of the Superintendent, and in that of the Inspectors of the Department of Education.

The annual medical inspection of the pupils was again carried out by Dr. George E. Rennie, whose report states as follows:—

1. The general health is good, and with very few exceptions the children show much improvement in their physical condition.
2. There are fewer cases of heart weakness, and the number of cases of albuminuria is also less.
3. The new entries show, on the whole, good physical development.
4. The number of cases of mental enfeeblement is less than formerly, which shows a process of weeding out undesirable pupils, and more care in deciding upon the suitability of those admitted for instruction.

5. The condition of the children reflects great credit upon the care and attention of the Superintendent and his staff.

The work of the school has been somewhat interrupted by sickness. During the year there were minor epidemics of mumps, chicken pox, measles and other complaints. It is a pleasure to be able to report, however, that all the patients recovered and the Institution is now quite free from sickness of any kind. For this excellent result great credit is due to our Honorary Physician, Dr. P. Sydney Jones, and the Matron, Mrs. Clarke.

In accordance with their usual custom the Directors again invited the Minister for Education to send Inspectors to examine the pupils. This he kindly consented to do, and the examination by Inspectors Walker and Henderson took place on the 17th and 18th September. The full text of their report is appended hereto, and special attention is invited to the following paragraph:—"We regret exceedingly to note that the Board is short of funds. The work done is a noble one; it is quite unnecessary to dwell upon this aspect. But after a searching inspection we wish to assure the supporters of the school that their money is well and wisely spent. We also heartily commend the claims of this admirable institution to the general public in the hope that it may enlist their practical sympathy and tend to relieve the Board of their financial anxieties."

The Drawing and Art work of the Deaf School was inspected on September 20th by Mr. J. E. Branch, Superintendent of Drawing for the Department of Education. His report thereon is very satisfactory and is also appended hereto.

In competition for prizes presented by the British Empire League of Newtown, our pupils again wrote essays. The adjudicator reported thereon as follows:—"I must again compliment you on the excellence of the essays submitted to me for consideration. Especially the essays of the blind children must be admired for their excellence in not only the subject matter, but the style. Considering the disadvantages they labour under, the results are wonderful." It is worthy of note that Alice Betteridge's essay, judged solely on its merits with the other essays, was placed second.

The deaf boys have done well in competition with other schools. In the Public Schools Cricket Competition they played nine matches, won 4, lost 5. In Football they won the championship of the Public High Schools' British Association Football Competition, C Grade, with an unbeaten record for the season. This is a very satisfactory record and one to be proud of.

The Children's Sports took place on October 17th at the Sydney Grammar School Sports Ground, kindly lent for the occasion, and were a distinct success. A large programme was submitted, the various events were keenly contested, and the pupils acquitted themselves well.

FINANCIAL.

Owing to various causes the income of the Institution was not so good as was anticipated at the beginning of the year. There has been a slight falling off in subscriptions, but when all things are taken into consideration, there is much to be thankful for. Notwithstanding the numerous calls for the various war funds the response to our appeals has been most gratifying, for which the Directors hereby tender their warmest thanks.

Special meetings have been held and careful attention has been given during the year to the finances of the Institution, with the object of curtailing, if possible, the expenditure, while securing, to the utmost, the health of the children. After careful investigation it was found that due economy was being exercised and there was not much scope for curtailing the expenses. The abnormal prices of all necessary commodities as compared with those of previous years are largely responsible for the increasingly heavy expenditure.

The income on General Fund Account was ...	7463	13	3
The expenditure, including an overdraft of £914/7/9 from the previous year, was ...	8700	19	1
Leaving a deficiency of	£1237	5	10

In addition to this deficiency there is also a debt on the Building Fund Account of £5090/17/-. The existence of these two debts is a source of considerable anxiety to the Directors, who earnestly appeal for special donations to liquidate them.

The following special receipts have come to hand and have been thankfully acknowledged:—From the estate of the late J. B. Bettington, £437/18/-, being nett proceeds of a legacy of £500; two further instalments amounting to £100 from the estate of the late James Bartlett, making a total to date of £420; two further donations of £50 each from the Trustees of the "Walter and Eliza Hall" Trust, making a total of £450; and a further instalment of £16/13/4, making a total of £66/13/4 on account of a legacy of £100 from the estate of the late Charles Moore. These have all been placed to the credit of the Perpetual Subscribers' Fund. The sum of £24/14/8 has been received from the estate of the late Theresa Mahnke and placed to the credit of the Building Fund; there was also a donation of £180 from the United Charities Fund, one of £50 from the United Grand Lodge of N.S.W. of A.F. and A. Masons, and one of £20 from Robert Vicars, Esq., for the purchase of books for the blind children's library.

For all these legacies and donations the Directors desire to express their most sincere thanks, and heartily commend the examples here shown to all who are possessed of surplus wealth and would like to benefit some deserving object. The claims of this Institution for recognition in this way stand pre-eminent.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE AND HONORARY STAFF.

At the monthly meeting of the Board on the 13th November last Mr. William Rigg, J.P., who had filled the position of Honorary Secretary for more than 12 years, tendered his resignation owing to the fact that he was living so far out of town that he found it almost impossible to attend to the duties of the office in the manner he would like. The resignation was accepted with much regret, and very eulogistic references were made to the splendid service Mr. Rigg had rendered as Hon. Secretary. The Directors, as a mark of their appreciation and esteem, unanimously appointed him a Vice-President of the Institution.

Mr. Arthur H. Love was appointed Hon. Secretary in place of Mr. Rigg.

In November last Mr. M. W. Oldham, J.P., a member of the Board, tendered his resignation, which was regretfully accepted.

To fill vacancies on the Board the Hon. William Brooks, M.L.C., and Dr. W. H. Crago have been appointed directors.

Mrs. Cosh, a member of the Ladies' Visiting Committee, resigned on account of ill-health. The resignation was accepted with much regret and a letter expressing the appreciation of the Board for services rendered was sent to Mrs. Cosh.

Mrs. Russell Sinclair was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Dr. E. Selwyn Harrison, Hon. Physician, has been absent the whole of the year on active service.

Dr. P. Sydney Jones has been doing double duty as Hon. Physician during Dr. Harrison's absence, and has been unremitting in his attention to the children whenever his services were required. Special thanks are due to Dr. Jones for the splendid service he has so willingly and cheerfully rendered.

The Directors again desire to place on record their obligations for the assistance they have received from the Ladies' Visiting Committee in regard to domestic and other matters which came within the scope of their duties or were submitted for their consideration and report. The self-denying spirit and efficient manner in which the Ladies carry out their duties are deserving of the highest praise.

The Directors are also under a deep debt of gratitude for services rendered by the Hon. Officers of the Institution in their various capacities, and have awarded a special vote of thanks to the following, viz., Dr. George E. Rennie, Hon. Physician and Hon. Medical Inspector; Dr. Charles P. B. Clubbe, Hon. Consulting Surgeon; Dr. J. C. Halliday, Hon. Ophthalmic Surgeon; Dr. John B. Graham, Hon. Aural Surgeon; Dr. P. Sydney Jones, Hon. Physician; Messrs. A. L. McCredie and Anderson, Hon. Architects; Aubrey Halloran, Esq., Hon. Solicitor; Messrs. Henry Pratt and T. F. H. Mackenzie, Hon. Auditors; Messrs. A. G. Gabriel and J. W. Cliff, Hon. Dentists; and Mrs. H. Earlam, Hon. Teacher of Fancy Needlework.

OFFICIAL STAFF.

Mrs. Clarke, Matron, we regret to say, was absent for some weeks owing to ill-health and having to undergo an operation. We are glad to report she is quite well again, and has resumed duty.

Mr. John O. Love, B.A., Teacher of the Deaf, has been on active service the whole of the year.

Miss Clarice Scoular, a teacher in the Blind School, resigned in December last to be married.

Miss Lolita Kingston was appointed to the vacant position.

Miss Isabel Petersen, who for 12 years had filled the position of country collector, resigned in June to be married.

Mrs. E. R. C. Hall has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Miss Bawtry, girls' supervisor, retired in October last on account of ill-health.

Miss White was appointed to the vacancy.

GENERAL.

No additions to the buildings have been made during the past year, but several improvements and necessary renovations have been carried out, including a new boiler for the hot water service of the kitchen and bathrooms.

The outside of the buildings requires painting very badly, but no funds are available for this work at present.

The annual Christmas Treat of fruit, cake and sweets so kindly given for many years by Mr. F. H. Dangar, of London, was received in December and much appreciated by the children.

CONCLUSION.

The Directors desire to express their gratitude to Almighty God for the blessings and mercies of another year, for the support that has been accorded and the success achieved, and they hope for a continuance of these Divine blessings in the future.

W. H. SIMPSON, President.

ARTHUR H. LOVE, Hon. Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Gentlemen,—I have pleasure in presenting my Seventh Annual Report.

A good number of children have been admitted to school this year, and a very pleasing feature is that with few exceptions the children admitted have been quite young, as is evidenced by the average age on admission for the year—only slightly over 7 years. This is very gratifying, and would appear to show a better realisation of the essential importance of early education. It is satisfactory to note, too, that the pupils who left school during the year showed a longer average school period than in previous years—a further evidence of better recognition by parents of the importance of education, and of appreciation of the work of our schools. There have, unfortunately, been one or two cases of children who have been allowed to lose valuable years of instruction before coming to school, and of others who have been removed after a far too short school period; and there must inevitably be further cases of this nature until there is compulsory school attendance for deaf and blind children.

The presence of so many young children in our schools is a most happy augury for future success. The average school period of deaf and blind children in the State has been lamentably short; and the admission of so many children at a correct age will, by giving a longer period under instruction, have the effect of increasing the scope and range of our work, and enabling us to carry on the development of our pupils to a higher point than has been possible.

The general standard of work has again advanced, and good achievement registered in all subjects. An interesting development of the year has been the institution of periodical visits of the senior blind children to the Australian Museum, where they are given the opportunity of personally handling natural history and other exhibits. Permission for visits of this nature was generously granted by the Museum authorities, and we are under a deep debt of gratitude both to them and to Mr. Hedley, who has gone to particular trouble to make the visits intensely interesting and informative.

The school library of Braille books has been increased by about 150 volumes as the result of a generous donation by Mr. R. Vicars.

In Manual work, which is of particular importance in a school for the blind, good all-round work has been done, and the results are more than creditable to both teachers and children.

I am happy to report that the wonderful progress and development of our deaf-blind pupil Alice Betteridge, has continued. It is almost impossible to add much to what I have previously reported in her case. In all subjects she has made great advances, and her educational attainments are remarkable. Her Manual work continues excellent, and her teacher, Miss Reid, B.A., is again to be most warmly congratulated on the magnificent work she has done with her. Alice is now over 16 years old, and the question of her future must before long be considered.

In the Deaf School there has been consistently good work and advance in the past year. The school is now a much younger one in point of the ages of the pupils, and this constitutes great promise. Excellent work has been done in the junior and intermediate divisions: and the extremely good oral work accomplished leads me to look for considerably improved speech and speech-reading in the school. Work in the senior classes again shows advances on the work of previous years. The Silent class, composed of children in whose case there is no attempt at speech teaching, has made really good progress; and gratifying development has been secured in a special class of difficult children from the educational standpoint. In considering the work of the school as a whole, I am conscious of distinct advance. There is greater response and intelligence, and a developing appreciation and use of language. A frequently commented on feature of both our schools is the interest and real joyousness of the children in their work. This evidences in the most happy way successful teaching work, and a healthy and helpful spirit and attitude secured in the children. The general tone of the schools is good; and the work of the teachers is not only developing intelligence, but cultivating the higher attributes of character. Every effort is made to develop a normal attitude and outlook and to preserve a correct contact with the outside world. Observational excursions have been continued: and in this and in similar ways knowledge gained and language developed under the most pleasant conditions.

ALICE BETTERIDGE, OUR DEAF-BLIND PUPIL, AND HER TEACHER, MISS REID, B.A.

Drawing in the Deaf School has again been most successfully taught, and the Superintendent of Drawing for the N.S.W. Department of Education reports in gratifying terms on the work done and the progress and improvement made. Particularly in view of the previous year's record, his remarks constitute high praise, and it is unnecessary that I should make further comment.

Manual work has continued extremely satisfactory. It is a specially important feature of our work; and the work of the teachers, in the effort to secure its particular values, has been more than creditable. The deaf boys' carpentry has been placed in the hands of Mr. Goldsmith, an arrangement that is working very well. The importance of securing the proper language value from the manual work subjects is kept well in mind by the teachers, and the whole range of manual work is made as truly educational as possible.

Physical culture has again received the attention its special importance merits, and excellent work has been done. The results, as evidenced by the physique and deportment of the pupils, have been gratifying. Physically exercises have been smartly and beneficially carried out; and the standard of physical work in both schools is very high. Organised games and sport have been continued. Our deaf boys have this year achieved a notable success in winning the championship of the Public High Schools British Association Football Competition—C Grade—with an unbeaten record. Our deaf girls are now keenly following tennis, and I am hopeful that the efforts being put forth in this direction will ultimately lead to similar success.

No report on our physical work would be complete without reference to our Children's Annual Sports, held in October last at the Sydney Grammar School Sports Ground, again generously lent for the purpose. There are very special values attaching to a display of this nature, and our sports represent one of the most useful and helpful features introduced in recent years. The physical and moral benefits derived by the children are great, and the educative effect on the public mind most valuable. Our last year's sports were most successful. Heavy work is entailed on the part of the teachers in the preparation of the children for a function of this kind, and I would express my appreciation of their keen and successful efforts.

It is a pleasure to again be able to report in the most favourable terms on the general spirit and work of the teachers. Their interest in the particular educational problems they are called on to face is obvious, and their keenness and enthusiasm are most helpful. The manner in which the out-of-school duties have been performed has been such as to secure real value to the children; and I am able to say that the members of the teaching staff have devoted themselves to their work with commendable spirit and an increasing measure of success.

The past year's work has brought a considerable degree of success; and I have the utmost confidence that a continuation of present effort can have no other result than continued progress and a steadily developing standard of attainment.

I beg to remain, Gentlemen,

Your faithfully,

HAROLD EARLAM,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.

(Copy.)

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND.

Visited 17th and 18th September, 1917.

The existence of such an institution as this in our community, supported almost entirely by private bequests and contributions, is a tribute to the public generosity of the State. Such philanthropy is an expressed recognition of the claims of children deprived of the blessing of sight or hearing. That these unfortunate children have claims is unquestioned. They exist as units of our population; they have to go through life seriously handicapped, and they have to find a place in the organisation of society in which they can earn a living for themselves.

The preparation of these children for life is the great aim of this institution. It does this by giving them a training in the mother tongue; in the case of the deaf speech training is specially emphasized; it keeps in view the physical and moral well-being of the child; and it seeks, through an organised system of manual training, to develop manual dexterity, and to give a direction into some branch of industrial life in which the child can earn a living.

To accomplish such aims successfully it is essential that the teachers get the pupils at an early age, say at 5 or 6 years. It is found, however, that many pupils are not received until much later, when the work of training is much more difficult, and the period for instruction is consequently greatly lessened. In illustration of this it may be pointed out that there is one class of 8 pupils whose average is 12 years 4 months, with an average period in school of 1 year 6 months. This is a defect for which the management is not responsible, and one that can be remedied only by legislation. This involves the great question of the inclusion of the teaching of these children in the educational system of the State—a question that cannot be discussed in a report of this character, but which is, nevertheless, one of the utmost importance.

Government.

An observation of the various classes at work makes it abundantly manifest that the children are happy in their school life. They exhibit freedom, cheerfulness, earnestness and friendliness, without any trace of repression or harshness on the part of the teachers, or of any indication of timidity on the part of the children. The educational value of freedom of action in the classrooms and in the play ground is fully realised by the staff. The result is a very healthy and stimulative form of school discipline.

An approved course of Physical Training is carried out in all classes with distinct success. The physical exercises in the senior classes are quite equal to those in well conducted State Schools. The drill by the Blind children is particularly good, when the duties of the work are taken into account.

Sport enters largely into the outdoor life of the school. It is well organised, the teachers are enthusiastic in the work, and the successes of the deaf football team show that these lads receive careful and systematic physical training.

The making of a tennis court for the girls at no cost to the institution is a feature for which the superintendent and his staff are to be commended.

Instruction.

The scheme of instruction is liberal and comprehensive, and it is carried out on true educational lines. Not only do the children receive regular and systematic teaching in English, Arithmetic, History, Geography, Nature Study and Scripture, but daily talks are given on current topics to keep the children informed on what is going on in the world around them.

A comprehensive scheme of Manual Training is given to all. Art work and Needlework are taught to the deaf, and ten senior deaf girls receive instruction in cookery. Singing as a recreation is given to the Blind pupils, and the exercises thoroughly enjoyed by them.

The mornings are devoted to the ordinary lessons, and the afternoons to various forms of Manual Training, Art Work, and Needlework. For a school of this character this is an admirable arrangement, and one which preserves a right proportion between the ordinary subjects, and those which call into play the manual activities.

The School for the Deaf.

The outstanding feature in this school is the emphasis laid on speech training. This is skilfully organised, and for the completeness and excellence of the system the management is to be warmly congratulated. In the early stages the treatment of phonics is effective, and varied and interesting devices are employed to make the work attractive. "Action" reading arouses interest, and pupils gradually become familiar with such expressions as "shake hands," "hop," "skip," "jump," etc. After one year in school all sounds and combinations are learned, and such words as "mouth," "thumb," "felt" are readily recognised. A class of 4½ years in school showed good progress in speech; the pupils could read simple sentences freely, and recite nursery rhymes intelligibly. These young pupils give promise of acquisition of considerable power of speech by the time they complete their school course.

The instruction is carried on through the various grades, until in the top class pupils are found reading Dickens with the aid of a dictionary. An essay on a recent visit to the photo-play, "The Tale of Two Cities," showed that English composition has received very careful attention, that the pupils had grasped the meaning of the story, and that they could express it in correct English.

Number work is well taught on correct lines. The whole teaching of Arithmetic is well graded; it is practical and in the top classes elementary commercial questions of a simple character are reasonably well done.

There is evidence of systematic teaching in History, Geography and current topics, and throughout the classes an intelligent interest is manifested in these subjects.

The instruction in Art Work is an excellent feature; the work is approached in the right spirit, the teachers recognise the educative value of the subject, and the many illustrative sketches seen in the work books show that the subject is practically applied in the children's expressional efforts. The report of the Department's Superintendent of Art Work is appended.

The pupils of the Silent Class show great earnestness in their efforts in written language and in exercises in elementary Arithmetic. The Special Class, each member of which is a problem in itself, is systematically pursuing a study of language, number work, and nature observation.

Since last inspection the garden has made a great advance. The various plots are models of neatness and order; they are the pride of the pupils, and the excellently kept vegetable plots are evidence of the interest and enthusiasm displayed by these deaf workers.

In this school there are two features that at once strike the observer—the patience and zeal of the teachers, and the earnest, serious and intense attention of the pupils.

School for the Blind.

The Course of Instruction is, as far as practicable, on the lines set out in our own Syllabus.

English.—The Juniors diligently apply themselves to the peculiarities of the Braille alphabet, and it is remarkable how soon they acquire a knowledge of it. Several pupils who have been here not more than six months can not only read but write simple words. In several tests, words selected from any part of the lesson were recognised. The work is ably graded throughout all classes until it reaches the highest, where a surprising proficiency is attained. These pupils read, from a book they have not previously touched, fluently and with suitable modulation. One lad, "Willie," read with a singularly beautiful and correct intonation rarely met with among boys blessed with sight. The secret of this probably lay in the fact that the boy had caught the spirit and sweet philosophy of Tennyson's song.

The biographies of Shakespeare, Coleridge, Southey, Cowper and Longfellow came under review. Then followed short discussions upon The Ancient Mariner, Gareth and Lynette, and Henry V., in which the pupils did credit to themselves and teachers. Current events, too, have their fascination for these senior pupils. In spite of those sightless eyes, which haunt one and call for the deepest compassion, the world is a very real place to these children. They have strong opinions of Germany's mode of warfare, and a distinct admiration for Australian soldiers. They know what the newspapers have told us of the Battles of Marne, Messines and Bullecourt.

In Poetry, the memorised extracts have been wisely selected. The teacher has not forgotten that the children must go through life "on broken wing." In the sad, solitary years that must come to each of them, the sweetness, beauty and sound philosophy taught in the selections may reasonably be expected to mitigate the pain caused by living in a colorless world.

We feel it a duty to record our appreciation of the excellent work done in English by Miss R. S. Reid, B.A. This lady has created in her pupils a love for reading, a taste for our purest and best literature, an admiration for the noblest ideals of life and, perhaps best of all, a feeling of resignation from which may spring, if not happiness, something akin that will compensate in part for probably the most dreaded physical infirmity—total blindness.

Mathematics.—The addition and multiplication tables are well grounded. Pupils show a ready knowledge of combinations. Through the sense of feeling, they are taught what the numbers stand for. Simple practical questions dealing with domestic accounts are given regularly to 3rd and 4th classes. The highest class did very fair work in Practice, Proportion and Percentages as applied to ordinary commissions, taxes, trade, interest and discount, in mensuration, the properties of quadrilaterals, triangles and circles are studied. Of course much of the Arithmetic is mental, as it should be, and it is made practical with a view to its application to the probable future requirements of the pupils.

History.—The Seniors answered satisfactorily in "British Colonisation." The achievements of Clive, Hastings, Wolfe, Livingstone, Cook, Kitchener and Cromer were touched upon. It was again noticeable that anything Australian possesses a special charm. With obvious pride, questions re early Australian Governors and Explorers were readily answered. Even Kennedy's faithful attendant—the Australian aborigine, Jacky—came in for a share of their praise and regard.

One feature stood out prominently in all subjects, viz., the general intelligence of the children. In English they would compare favourably with secondary classes in our superior schools. In a "viva voce" exam. in Mathematics, History, Geography, Civics and Scripture, they would hold their own in primary public schools.

Manual Work.

It is gratifying to record that the Superintendent's well-balanced scheme is exceedingly practical, intelligently graded and properly linked up from class to class.

In the Blind School, the Juniors have raffia winding and plaiting, weaving, beadwork and clay-modelling. The intermediate classes take rugmaking, weaving, and raffia coiled work. The senior girls do knitting (they are proud of the socks knitted for soldiers) and cane basketry. The senior boys do chair-caning and basketry. The specimens of finished work need only to be seen to be appreciated. One blind boy was re-seating a chair. How he managed to get the threads so uniform and to give such a finish to the job passes one's comprehension.

In the Deaf School a more elaborate scheme obtains. The boys pass through the various classes taking modelling, raffia work, paper-cutting, cane-weaving, cardboard, woodwork, carpentry (correlated with drawing), boot-repairing and gardening. The girls take the earlier branches to cardboard work, then take sewing, knitting, crocheting, dress-making and millinery. The Superintendent's objective in initiating such a comprehensive scheme and in providing for its systematic continuity in all classes is obvious. He is aiming at turning out young men and women with taste and skill for their subsequent vocations. Apart from this, there are other reasons not the least of which is the cultivation of useful hobbies which should bring pleasure and profit to these afflicted children.

Management.

The general management is characterised by care, economy and thoroughness. The grounds show regular attention and artistic skill in the laying-out of flower plots. The outhouses, kitchen, laundry, dormitories and premises generally are scrupulously clean.

The neatly patched clothes of the pupils indicated rigid and useful economy. Not the slightest evidence of waste in any department of the work was noted. The children receive wholesome food, sufficient and suitable clothing, regular exercise, and abundance of fresh air—factors that reflect themselves in the general health of the pupils, which is remarkably good. They are cheerful and are evidently attached to the Superintendent and Teachers, for on visiting each classroom we found a smile of welcome for the former and a ready response for the latter.

We regret exceedingly to note that the Board is short of funds. The work done is a noble one: it is quite unnecessary to dwell upon this aspect. But after a searching inspection we wish to assure the supporters of the school that their money is well and wisely spent. We also heartily commend the claims of this admirable institution to the general public in the hope that it may enlist their practical sympathy and tend to relieve the Board of their financial anxieties.

The Teaching Staff.

The staff consists of fifteen regular teachers and three visiting. To the outsider their number may appear to be unusually large for 128 pupils, but a moment's reflection dispels such an impression. Only individual or almost individual instruction can be effective here. The classes (if classes they can be called) must necessarily be very small or the work will be comparatively futile. Every teacher is fully employed, and any curtailment of the staff would in our judgment be disastrous. Further, as there is no Training School for such teachers in Australia, and as importations since the war began are practically unobtainable, it appears to us that provision should be made for possible vacancies. For this reason, we can only recommend that a probationary teacher be added to the staff, so that she may undergo the essential training forthwith, and, as far as possible, be made competent to fill any vacancy which may arise.

REPORT ON THE ART WORK OF THE NEW SOUTH WALES SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND THE BLIND.

Drawing and Brushwork are taught to the deaf children, Modelling only to the blind.

All this work which I have inspected is most creditable from both the artistic and educative view points. Drawing from reality shows most careful observation of colour and form with expressive skill, which is generally excellent. Brushwork from nature and the original designing, show that by right methods of teaching exceptional progress has been obtained. The Modelling is exactly suited to the needs of those children so seriously handicapped.

The best work of this year is of a higher quality than that of last year.

REPORT OF SPEECHES AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE FIFTY-SIXTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND THE BLIND,

Held at the Institution, City Road, Darlington, on Wednesday, 24th October, 1917, at 3 p.m.

Present: His Excellency Sir Wm. P. Cullen, K.C.M.G., LL.D., Lieutenant-Governor (in the chair); Lady Cullen; General H. Fynn, C.B.; W. H. Simpson, Esq., J.P. (President), Fred. Phillips, Esq., (Hon. Treasurer), Arthur H. Love, Esq. (Hon. Secretary), The Hon. Wm. Brooks, M.L.C., Dr. W. H. Crago, Dr. T. Storie Dixon, Aubrey Halloran, Esq., Board of Directors; Mrs. Wm. Briggs, Mrs. J. H. Goodlet, Mrs. Linsley, Mrs. J. Fulton Rofe, Mrs. Russell Sinclair, Mrs. T. Storie Dixon, Mrs. Harwood, Mrs. Munce, Mrs. Wm. Rigg, Ladies' Visiting Committee.

The Vice-Regal party arrived at 3 p.m., and the National Anthem was sung.

Apologies for absence were received from Sir Philip Sydney Jones, the Hon. G. W. Fuller, M.L.A., Acting Premier, Wm. Rigg, Esq., J.P., Dr. J. C. Halliday, the Right Rev. John Paterson, the Rev. John Ferguson, J. T. Walker, Esq., Mrs. Manson, and Mrs. Shand.

Her Excellency, Lady Cullen, was presented with a bouquet of carnations by one of the pupils.

His Excellency occupied the chair, and called on the Hon. Secretary to read the advertisement convening the meeting for the purpose of receiving the fifty-sixth report of the Institution.

Annual Report.

His Excellency was handed a copy of the Annual Report. He said:—

“Ladies and Gentlemen,—It is usual to take the Annual Report as read. I understand that you have all been presented with a copy. I would like to say that this Institution gives itself a work which the whole community appreciates, and which, in its results, has proved not only useful, but, I think, is thoroughly recognised by the whole community. The Report shows that since September 30, 1916, twenty-two new pupils have been admitted to the Institution, and that twenty-four have graduated and have been discharged, leaving an enrolment of 119 at the present time. The Report draws attention to the fact that, although the number of pupils has not increased, it is no reason for supposing that they may not be much larger in the future.

“Attention is drawn also in the Report to the desire of the Committee, as the result of long years of experience, to point out that the education of the deaf, dumb and the blind has been neglected. They desire that it should be compulsory for such children to attend the Institution, and therefore recommend that the Government pass legislation having that object in view. It is a sad thing to think that a child should lose the chance of the very valuable teaching that is made available by this Institution, because a child with these physical drawbacks and deficiencies can be carefully trained by the facilities that are offered here. There seems to be a certain amount of neglect on the part of many parents who have children suffering from these defects; and it seems to be due, in most cases, to ignorance that any parent should keep his or her child untaught. But, for some reason or other, there are children who are neglected in this respect. I must say I sympathise with the desire of the Board of Directors to have that wrong removed, so far as legislation can remove it. Of course, it requires very careful consideration. Children who are blind or deaf and dumb do not stand on the same footing as that of other children. The complete and capable management of those in charge of this Institution, I am quite sure, is a gain to the community, and I am certain that it would be doing nothing more than an act of justice to these afflicted children to provide legislation to meet their special circumstances.

“Then I see reference in the Report to the health of the pupils, which is very gratifying too. At the present time there appears to be no sickness at all. At such places where there are a number of children there must be some epidemic prevailing; but, thanks to the valuable work done by the honorary physician and the matron, the result is very gratifying indeed, as regards the health of the children.

“Arrangements were also made for the purpose of examining the children, and an examination was conducted on the 17th and 18th September by inspectors from the Department of Education. The deaf boys have held their own in the cricket and football competitions.

“It is natural, of course, during the trouble caused by the war, that the finances of the Institution have suffered to some extent. The increase in the prices of everything that is used has put a good deal of strain upon the resources of the Institution, and while the income in the shape of subscriptions from the public, seems to be well maintained, nevertheless, there is a balance to the bad. I see the Report shows there is a deficiency of £1237/5/10, and that, together with the fact that there is a large indebtedness of a little over £5000 on the building account; that is enough to give some anxiety to those who have worked so hard for the Institution; and I trust that when the facts are placed before the public, it will be reminded once more of its obligation to those who have this work in charge.

“The only other matter in the Report to which I shall refer is the valuable work done by the Ladies’ Visiting Committee. I am quite sure that the Report will leave the impression on our minds that really good work is being done by these ladies. The very important work done by this Committee is freely done, and no one can deny any Society that is doing such good work.

“The Balance Sheet has been audited, and, therefore, I do not think I need refer to it to-day.

“Except those things I have mentioned—that there is a shortage and that a heavy burden still remains, I shall say no more. You will be addressed by other speakers, so I shall conclude these few observations by saying that it gives me great pleasure to move:—‘That the Report be adopted; and, together with the Balance Sheet, etc., be printed for circulation.’”

At the conclusion of His Excellency’s remarks, he was accorded an outburst of applause.

W. H. Simpson, Esq., J.P., President of the Board of Directors, seconded the motion for the adoption of the fifty-sixth Annual Report.

He said:—"Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen.—I rise to second the resolution, and wish to say that I do so with great pleasure. I have been connected with this Institution for more than thirty years, and I think that everything connected with it proves that it is in a great state of efficiency. We have a splendid headmaster; our Superintendent, Mr. Earlam, since he has been here, has shown a marked development and improvement in the progress of the children under his care. Our Superintendent takes a keen interest in the physical culture, as well as the educational advancement of the pupils. There are such games as cricket, football and tennis for the older children, and plenty of suitable entertainment for the younger ones. The physique of the pupils has greatly improved of late years. I am sure that this is very gratifying to those connected with the Institution. On the 17th and 18th September Inspectors from the Department of Education made a thorough examination of the school, including everything dealing with the teaching and physical development and domestic training of our pupils, and their report is a most pleasing and interesting document. It gives unqualified praise. It says the children are, in many cases, equal to the standard of the public school children of the same age. It will be printed and attached to the Annual Report, and sent to every subscriber to the Institution. I am sure the Secretary will be pleased to send a copy on request by letter or telephone message.

"His Excellency has gone through nearly every item, and I have only to say that, with respect to the Financial Statement, that it is the only unsatisfactory part of the whole report. We certainly do not get as much money as we should like to obtain. There has been £55,000 spent on the buildings and the Government has only given £5000 towards it. The balance has all been paid from legacies, subscriptions, and donations.

"I would like to say that the children's sports took place on the Sydney Grammar School grounds, which were kindly made available for the purpose, a favour for which we are truly grateful. A splendid programme was arranged, and the children enjoyed their sports and had a thoroughly good day. I may say, on behalf of the Directors and teachers and all concerned, that we try to make the children comfortable and to give them the most expert teaching we can possibly provide, so that when they leave the Institution they will have a good start in life. I have much pleasure in seconding the resolution."

His Excellency read the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

Government Grant.

Fred. Phillips, Esq. (Hon. Treasurer), moved:—"That the thanks of this meeting are hereby given to the Government and Parliament for the annual donation of £450 in aid of the funds of the Institution."

He said:—"Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen.—I do not wish to enlarge on the resolution, because I shall leave it to the gentleman who is to follow. But I shall trouble you with one short extract from the Inspectors' Report of the annual examination of the children, dated 3rd October, 1917. The extract is: 'We regret exceedingly to note that the Board is short of funds. The work done is a noble one; it is quite unnecessary to dwell upon this aspect. But after a searching inspection we wish to assure the supporters of the school that their money is well and wisely spent. We also heartily commend the claims of this admirable Institution to the general public in the hope that it may enlist their practical sympathy and tend to relieve the Board of their financial anxieties.' ”

The extract read by Mr. Phillips was received with enthusiasm.

Dr. W. H. Crago seconded the resolution. He said: “Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen,—I have very much pleasure in seconding this resolution. It scarcely requires any words of mine; but, at the same time, I would like to quote a few figures which I got from Mr. Cooke. The figures relate to the amount granted by the Government to this Institution. I find that fifty years ago, in the year 1868, when there were only twenty pupils in the Institution, the Government gave the same subsidy of £450. That year the expenditure was only £878/15/2; so that the Government subsidy really covered more than half of the expenditure. During the last financial year the number of pupils was 120. That is just six times what we had in the year 1868, yet the amount of the Government subsidy is still £450. It is only fair to say that in addition to that, the Government paid for school fees for Government pupils £834/8/-; so that really we have received from the Government the sum of £1284/8/-. Still, I think we might reasonably have it put before the Government that an Institution of this character should have the subsidy largely increased. We do not want to be envious of other Institutions, but one other Institution, dealing almost exclusively with the blind, received over £2000 from the Government. I forgot to mention that the subscriptions in the year 1868 amounted to £476/17/4, and this year they amount to £2612/2/-. I must apologise for taking up so much time; but I have very great pleasure in seconding the motion.” (Applause.)

His Excellency read the motion, which was carried.

Election of Board of Directors.

Aubrey Halloran, Esq., moved:—“That the following gentlemen be members of the Board of Directors for the ensuing year, viz.: President, W. H. Simpson, Esq., J.P.; Vice-Presidents, Sir Philip Sydney Jones, and William Rigg, Esq., J.P.; Hon. Treasurer, Fred. Phillips, Esq.; Hon. Secretary, Arthur H. Love, Esq.; Directors (to fill vacancies), The Hon. William Brooks, M.L.C., Dr. W. H. Crago, Thomas S. Holt, Esq., and Robert Vickers, Esq. And that the following do constitute the Medical Staff: Hon. Consulting Physician and Hon. Medical Inspector, George E. Rennie, Esq., M.D., F.R.C.P.; Hon. Consulting Surgeon, Chas. P. B. Lubbe, Esq., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.; Hon. Ophthalmic Surgeon, J. C. Halliday, Esq., Ch.M., F.R.C.S.; Hon. Aural Surgeon, John B. Graham, Esq., M.D., M.Ch.; Hon. Physicians, P. Sydney Jones, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., and E. Selwyn Harrison, Esq., M.B., Ch.M.; Hon. Dentists, A. G. Gabriel, Esq., and J. W. Cliff, Esq.”

He said:—“Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen.—I would like to say that these gentlemen who have been proposed have been tried and have proved trusty men, who have given their services freely without any stint during the past year, many of them for many years past. The good work done by them is well known by every one of the subscribers of our Institution. The more money that is given for the work here in this Institution the greater will be the sphere of the work. If children are sent here at the proper age and compelled to stay until such time as they have received the necessary attention and training, they will then be able to go out into the world and maintain themselves, and not become a burden on the community. The great want we feel with the children here is that many do not come to school until they are eleven or twelve years of age, and some are taken away before they are thirteen years old. Such a thing is wrong in a civilised community. The Government has been asked over and over again to make attendance compulsory. If the Institution is well managed—and it is—there is not a better place than New South Wales to find the money, for this good work. (Applause.) The small sum received from the Government would not nearly carry on the work that is done here. The people subscribe, but more is wanted in order to fit and place the children in the industrial life of New South Wales. Only one or two weeks ago one of the lads, who left school last Christmas, visited the Institution to see some of his old fellow-pupils, and his late teachers, and he is earning £5 a fortnight. Now, what is wanted is liberal subscriptions—we want money. You know the old adage: 'Those who give quickly will certainly get it back in another way.' if not in this world, well, in the next.

"We also want endowments. In history, geography, English and arithmetic these boys and girls come up to the standard of the best pupils in our public schools. That shows that what you have to do to make these children happy is to provide the Institution with sufficient money in order that the pupils should have a good education and also their sports and games. In this way the children will be thoroughly educated and fitted for manhood and womanhood in later years. Not only will they be able to earn a good living, but they will be able to enjoy the full pleasure of life; they will be able to enjoy to the fullest all the beautiful literature in the same way as others can enjoy it. (Hear, hear.)

"In proposing these gentlemen, whose names you have heard mentioned a few minutes ago, I must say that they are men in whom you can have every confidence. They will do their work well. If you place gentlemen like these on the Board of Directors and on the Honorary Staff of Physicians, the subscribers can have every confidence in the management of the Institution. The tendency of one Government a little while ago was to lay its hands on everything it possibly could. You know that great harm was done to Institutions such as this. But once the public has confidence that the money subscribed will never be touched by the Government, then I believe there will be liberal endowments given to this Institution. Give us £1000 for a start to found a scholarship to send a student to the University. These endowments are wanted just the same as in other schools in New South Wales. I am glad to say that the present Government has shown a tendency not to interfere with any institution that is going on well. We want you to come along with your subscriptions. In the meantime, I have pleasure in proposing for office the gentlemen who have been already named, as men well worthy of the support which they have richly deserved during the past year." (Applause.)

Dr. T. Storie Dixon seconded the resolution. He said:—"Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen,—In seconding the resolution proposed by Mr. Halloran, there is very little, naturally enough, to add to what he has said. You will naturally ask me why money is wanted, but the question comes up continually at every meeting. 'Is the Government doing all that it can do?' Now it is easy to find fault with the Government; but after all is said and done, there is one fair claim upon the Government, especially a democratic Government, such as we have in New South Wales, namely, that every person should have an opportunity of gaining a suitable education for himself or herself. There remains the fact that each year we have had to educate these children who have been left out of the public school—who have been left to public generosity to receive their education. To meet all requirements there is now a deficit of over £1200. I have been thinking that, perhaps, the Government would like to have a representative on the Board of Directors if it gave a larger subsidy. Surely there would be no objection to the Government being so represented. In this way it would have some certainty that this money is carefully spent. I have the privilege of being on other Boards, on which there are Government representatives, and I can only say that those gentlemen have been a valuable aid in letting the Government know what good work is being done. As my predecessor has said, the gentlemen whose names have been proposed by him are well worthy of our trust, as judged by their past actions on the Board and Honorary Staff of this Institution; but would it not be well that we should have Government representatives, and let the Government freely feel what a valuable and necessary work the Institution is doing? Under those circumstances, it appears to me that the Government would feel more confidence in our management. An overdraft of £5000 is an unpleasant thing, and a deficit of £1237 is also undesirable. Therefore, I hope you will excuse my apparent digression. But the Government has been somewhat hesitant in the past to meet us. We have asked them and asked them; we can only be like the old widow—we hope to get more next time. I have much pleasure in seconding the motion of my predecessor.” (Applause.)

His Excellency put the motion, and declared it carried unanimously.

Honorary Staff.

The Hon. William Brooks, M.L.C., moved: “That the thanks of this meeting are hereby given to the Honorary Staff for their services during the past year.” He said: “Your Excellency, I do not think it is necessary for me to go through the list of the names of the Honorary Staff. Those gentlemen have been doing good work during the past year. We have on the Honorary Staff the teacher of fancy needlework, Mrs. Earlam, who is doing very good work in that direction. There is also the Ladies’ Visiting Committee, who are doing excellent work for the Institution. I am sure that all will agree with me when I say that any honorary work that can be done on behalf of this Institution brings its own reward. I am confident that anyone giving services to this Institution is doing specific help to these children, and that can be seen by looking round the room at those children who are under the care of the Institution. In this room is the human appeal. I have very great pleasure in moving this resolution.” (Applause.)

F. H. Bryce, Esq., seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

Vote of Thanks.

J. Bryson, Esq., moved:—“That the thanks of this meeting are hereby given to the Directors and Officers of the Institution for their services during the past year.”

He said:—“Your Excellency,—I do not propose to make a speech, but to leave the resolution to the gentleman who is to follow me. However, I would like to quote one paragraph of the Report presented by the Inspectors of the Department of Education. In this Report they say: ‘One feature stood out prominently in all subjects, viz., the general intelligence of the children. In English they would compare favourably with secondary classes in our Superior Schools. In a viva voce examination in mathematics, history, geography, civics and Scripture they would hold their own in Primary Public Schools.’ I think that extract speaks for itself. I have great pleasure in moving the resolution.”

Danvers Powers, Esq., seconded the resolution. He said:—"Your Excellency,—It is with much pleasure that I second this resolution. Great credit is due to the Directors and Officials for the work they have carried out in connection with this Institution, and we are fortunate in having the services of our Superintendent. He has laid out his life in this work. The children brighten up as soon as they hear his voice or feel his presence. The same remark applies to the other members of the teaching staff. They have all done a great deal to start the children, as far as possible, on the same basis as those who are more fortunate in having the possession of all their faculties. We ought to be very thankful indeed to the Directors and the Officials for the work they are doing. (Applause.) I have great pleasure in seconding the resolution."

At the suggestion of His Excellency, the resolution was carried by acclamation, and with great enthusiasm.

Demonstration of Method of Teaching the Deaf and Dumb.

The Superintendent, Mr. Earlam, briefly outlined the method of imparting instruction to the pupils. He said:—"Your Excellencies, ladies and gentlemen,—In the very short space of time before the meeting expires we wish to give a little demonstration of the pupils' work. The power to articulate and read speech orally is the first part of each child's work. It is only in the case of children who come to us too late, and in the case of children who have been tried on oral work and have proved themselves not adapted to this training, that this method is not applied. Such children are taught by other methods. We shall show you three or four groups of children, from the lowest stage up to the senior girls. I would like to explain that the teaching of speech is not the real problem; the real problem is to teach the children to understand and use language. These children are not only deprived of the acquisition of language and the use of words, but they are deprived also of the mental development of the early years of the infancy of the normal child, which has long been brought out in the use of language. This means that deaf children when they come to school are in their intellectual infancy. Speech is the means; language is the end. There is no need for any further explanation, so the first group will now give their demonstration."

The first group, under the charge of Miss Beaumont, principal teacher of Articulation, consisted of children of an average age of five years. It was explained that the children were first taught their names, and that it gradually dawned on them that a certain formation of the lips represented their own names, and that a certain sign represented that name, thus combining the power of articulation with speech. This group were able to recognise and respond to such words as jump, hop, walk; also, they were able to do simple addition. They proved their ability to recognise different toys, noticing the formation of the teacher's lips when giving the oral directions.

At this stage His Excellency, the Lieut.-Governor, owing to a pre-arranged engagement, had to retire. The President of the Institution moved a vote of thanks to Sir William and Lady Cullen, which was carried by acclamation and with great enthusiasm.

His Excellency, in response, said:—"Mr. President,—I thank the meeting very much on behalf of Lady Cullen and myself for the hearty vote of thanks. I have to go to the University, but I would like to see more of the demonstration. I appreciate the teachers who bring about such wonderful results. I again thank you very much for the vote of thanks."

The second group, in charge of Miss Morison, were children who averaged eight years. These were able to articulate, write on the black-board, and indicate such nouns as eye, mouth, teeth. They could also pronounce and write their own Christian names.

Miss Thorn had charge of the third group. These children had been at school for about three years, and it was explained that their language had advanced beyond only monosyllabic words. These pupils were able to comprehend short sentences and conversations.

The fourth group was in charge of Miss McIntyre. The average age was seventeen years, and their general knowledge was very much advanced. One girl was able to draw an outline map of the new Trans-Australian railway from Adelaide to Port Augusta, and the others helped to correctly indicate the principal towns on its route. Some of the girls were able to work multiplication and long division sums correctly.

At the conclusion of the demonstration the Superintendent extended an invitation to visitors who, he said, would be always welcome.

During the proceedings musical items were rendered by the pupils. Myra Foster (a blind student) played a piano solo; the blind choir sang "A Veteran's Song" with much spirit, and other items; Misses May Harris and Ruby Salmon (pupils) played a pianoforte duet.

The President invited those present to partake of tea and light refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting, and proceedings terminated at 4.30 p.m.

COLLECTIONS BY FRIENDS.

INFORMATION AND DIRECTIONS RELATIVE TO THE ADMISSION OF CHILDREN TO THE INSTITUTION.

1. Applications must be in writing, addressed to the Secretary, sent before the child is brought to the Institution, and should contain as full information as possible. The necessary forms can be obtained of the Hon. Secretary.

2. Pupils are admissible from any part of the State of New South Wales, and, under certain conditions, from other States.

3. No child deficient in intellect, subject to fits, or unable to wash and dress itself, can be considered a fit subject for admission; and no child, whose conduct or habits are deemed by the officers to be objectionable, will be allowed to remain in the Institution.

4. No child shall be admitted of an age younger than five years, nor older than twelve years, unless under special circumstances, to be decided by the Board.

5. No order will be given by the Secretary for a child's admission until the medical certificate has been obtained, and it must be understood that no children are eligible for admission until every means have been tried for restoring their sight or hearing, as the case may be.

6. Children, on entering the Institution, are required to have two complete suits of clothing for school or week-day wear, to be of dark colour, and a better suit for Sunday, and to be provided with clothing (see list) by their parents and friends during their residence. Each child must be provided with a box or trunk, in which to keep clothing when clean.

7. Any amounts remitted to the Secretary for the purchase of clothing will be expended under the direction of the Board of Directors.

8. School fees vary according to the circumstances of the parents; the highest fee is £40 a year. If the parents are not able to pay that amount, a smaller fee will be accepted.

9. In the case of children whose parents are unable to pay any fees, a certificate of their inability to pay must be obtained from known individuals.

10. Fees are payable in advance, and date from the time of admission.

11. Children cannot be permitted to leave the Institution unless with the direct sanction and authority of the Board of Directors.

12. In addition to the ordinary scholastic subjects, every child in the Institution receives some form of manual training, further particulars of which are given on the previous page.

13. The vacations are 6 weeks at Christmas and 3 weeks at mid-winter; and it is essential that pupils should return to the Institution on the day fixed to commence duties after each vacation, "and with their clothing clean and in proper order." (See list.)

14. Pupils are expected to remain in the Institution until they attain the age of 16 years, and except under very special circumstances, no child will be allowed to remain after attaining this age. The attention of parents is specially drawn to this in the hope that they will realise the necessity for sending their children to school at an early age. Failure to do this means depriving the children of at least a portion of their education.

15. Except under special circumstances children will only be admitted at two periods of the year, viz., January and July.

16. It is requested that all communications be addressed to

ARTHUR H. LOVE, Hon. Secretary,
City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

“The object of this Institution is the education and maintenance and, as far as practicable, the advancement in life of deaf and dumb and blind children.”

The Institution is open to Subscribers and other Visitors on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 4 p.m., and at other times on special order from the Honorary Secretary or a Director.

The Parents and Friends of children are admitted once a fortnight, on Thursdays, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

The children are permitted to leave the Institution to visit their friends once a month, on special written application being made to the Honorary Secretary.

When a case of serious or infectious illness occurs while a pupil is at home, it must be reported to the Hon. Secretary, and the child must not be returned to school until all danger of infection has passed, and a medical certificate to that effect produced.

Forms and all particulars for the admission of pupils can be obtained of the Honorary Secretary.

Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the Treasurer, the Secretary, or at the Institution.

The Meetings of the Board of Directors are held on the Second Monday in each month, at 3 o'clock p.m. The Ladies' Visiting Committee meet at the Institution on the last Friday in each month, at 3 o'clock.

The cost of passages to and from the Institution must be paid by the friends of the pupils, the Board having no fund for this purpose.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. Arthur H. Love, Honorary Secretary, at the Institution, City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

Money orders should be made payable to the Secretary or Treasurer, at the General Post Office, Sydney.

It is highly necessary that the Parents or Friends of children should notify the Secretary of any change of residence, so that, in case of illness, or other cause, immediate communication may be made.

The Public, Subscribers, and friends of the Institution are earnestly entreated to notify the Secretary of the existence in their districts of any Deaf and Dumb or Blind Children, not under instruction, it having been a source of great regret to the Board to find that several children have passed the age of admission, simply from their not having come under the notice of some kind friends who would take the necessary steps to enable them to be brought within the advantages of the Institution.

HINTS TO PARENTS OF BLIND CHILDREN.

Remember that your child is just an ordinary child—deprived of sight—and treat him accordingly. Teach him to walk as soon as you would if he had his sight, and train him to use his limbs. He is dependent on the sense of touch (feeling) for much of the knowledge that is received by other children through the eye; and from the earliest possible time should be taught to observe shapes, sizes, weights, etc., by feeling things, and to find his way about the home and surroundings.

Do not make the mistake of imagining that because your child is blind it is necessary or kind to do almost everything for him. It is quite unnecessary, and, bearing in mind the fact that the more intelligent occupation the child has, and the more he discovers that he can do for himself, the less will he feel the deprivation of sight, it is positively unkind to bring him up in a helpless manner. Let him learn to wash and dress himself, and to attend to his other personal requirements, and to be neat and tidy. Teach him to feed himself, and be as particular over his table behaviour as you would be with a sighted child.

Teach him to walk correctly and carry himself well. Be very careful to check at the very outset any little objectionable mannerism that may show itself. Some blind children have a tendency to facial grimace, screwing the fingers into the eyes, rocking the body backward and forward, or from side to side, and if these practices are not stopped on their appearance they may develop into habits that will require years to eradicate.

Teach your child all the little nursery rhymes, fairy tales and songs that go to make childhood happy, and always endeavour that he may hear only such things as you would like him to remember.

Do not let him feel that his blindness makes him different to other children; but help him to realise that he is just the same as they, and "as good as anybody else." Let him help in all the little domestic operations in which children assist their parents.

Do not discuss his blindness in his presence—and show your sympathy for him not by bemoaning the fact that he is blind, but by helping him, in ways suggested above, and in other ways that will suggest themselves to any intelligent parent, to overcome the disabilities of blindness to the highest possible degree. Do everything necessary to secure his happiness—but remember that the surest way of making him miserable and unhappy is to "spoil" him by placing him outside any form of discipline.

As soon as he is old enough—at 5 years of age or thereabouts—send him to school. There he will be surrounded by people whose lives are devoted to the education and care of children such as he; and it is only there that he will be able to secure the education which will enable him to take his place in the world, and which will supply him with the knowledge and mental development necessary to his personal happiness and advancement.

Do not take your child for examination or treatment to any but a duly qualified medical man. Secure for him the best medical advice obtainable, but on no account go to any "doctor" who has no medical degree. There is grave risk of serious damage resulting from the interference of any unqualified person with such a delicate organ as the eye.

If you act on the lines suggested here, you will be doing much for your child. He will be brighter and happier at home, and when he comes to school he will be in a better position to benefit by the instruction given, and his educational advancement will be more rapid.

PREVENTION OF BLINDNESS.

It has been estimated that 40 per cent. of blindness is due to the disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum, or Infantile Ophthalmia. In other words, it is probable that four out of every ten blind people have lost their sight from this cause.

Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a disease which attacks the eyes of newly-born children, their eyes being infected by the mother during the birth. It is very dangerous and infectious, and unless prompt measures are taken on its appearance, it almost inevitably results in blindness. Sometimes the disease yields to treatment, but in this disease perhaps more than in any other is prevention better than cure.

The attention of parents, midwives and others is called to the following instructions, which, if invariably carried out, would do much towards minimising the amount of blindness in the world, and preserving the inestimable blessing of sight to children whose eyes are attacked by the dread disease, Ophthalmia Neonatorum.

1. When a child is born, see that the eyes are carefully and thoroughly washed out. In lying-in institutions and in other cases where there is danger of infection, the midwives should be instructed to instil a drop of one per cent. silver nitrate solution or twenty-five per cent. Argylol solution into the baby's eyes.
2. Especially in the first week or two of the child's life, carefully examine the eyes for signs of inflammation (redness of the eyes or lids, discharge, or swelling).
3. If there is any suggestion of Inflammation, SEND FOR THE DOCTOR. Do not wait to see if the condition of the eye becomes worse—remember that the sight of the child may be imperilled.
4. Previous to the doctor's arrival, wash the child's eyes in clean warm solution of Boracic Acid every quarter of an hour; using clean cotton wool, and being careful not to use the same piece of cotton wool twice, and being also careful not to touch both eyes with one piece.
5. OBEY THE DOCTOR'S INSTRUCTIONS IMPLICITLY. Remember that once the child's sight is destroyed, it can never be regained; and remember, too, that carelessness or failure to properly carry out the doctor's instructions may doom the child to lifelong darkness.

The question of the prevention of blindness from Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a big medical, social and political problem. Other phases of the subject may be referred to at a later date.
